We invite you to join Speaker, Professor Omar Usmani, and Chair, Professor Akio Niimi, as they discuss the importance of inhaler device selection during the upcoming 25th Congress of the Asian Pacific Society of Respirology (APSR 2021).

Speaker:
Professor Omar Usmani,
United Kingdom

Chair:
Professor Akio Niimi,
Japan

Contents

In this lecture, Professor Usmani will highlight the importance of selecting the right type of inhaler device for each patient: while DPI may be a good choice for some patients, it may not always be the best option — especially for the very young, the very old and the very ill. While sharing his experience of asthma treatment in the UK, Professor Usmani will guide us through an overview of publications from around the world and emphasize the importance of patient inhalation technique, as well as the role that AeroChamber has to play in improving lung delivery.
